Carlton Cadell Hathaway 5/23/2007

Carlton Cadell Hathaway died of cancer Friday (May 18, 2007) after an extended illness. He was 69.

The abiding memory we have of Carlton was his overwhelming generosity to his fellow man, and duty to family before self. We mourn his passing deeply.

He was born May of 1938, the third of seven children, to Eulane and Orvin Hathaway in Granstville, W.Va., during the aftermath of the Depression. The austerity of those times had a lasting impact on Carlton so that he worked ceaselessly to build a future for his family, with the result that his family never "went without" and all graduated college.

Carlton was a self-made man who worked for DuPont Corporation, Parkersburg, for 38 years, truly achieving "master" status as both welder and mechanic. His time away from work was consumed by religion and family as he served various positions in church, coached various youth teams and worked with his sons and daughter on the farm.

While we mourn his passing, we rejoice that he has been called home to the Lord. Carlton leaves behind the love of his life, Bonnie, the girl he met on the bus in the ninth grade; his sons, Kevin and Brian, both officers in the United States Army; his little girl, Kara, now an elementary education teacher; and eight grandchildren who will greatly miss him. He is survived by his mother, Eulane; his three brothers, James David, Wesley, and Ernest; and his sister, Loretta.

Funeral services will be held at 1 p.m. Thursday at the First Baptist Church of Grantsville, W.Va. James Carriker will officiate. Interment will be in the Fairview Cemetery at Nicut with military graveside rites. Friends may call from 6 to 9 p.m. today at Stump Funeral Home in Grantsville and one hour prior to the service at the church Thursday.
