

Robert Earl Wildermuth Sr. 7/10/1999

VENICE, Fla. — Robert Earl Wildermuth Sr., 75, of Venice, a former resident of Harmar, died Friday afternoon, June 25, 1999, in Doctor's Hospital in Sarasota, Fla.

He was born on May 8, 1924, in his parents' home, 123 Franklin St., Marietta, a son of Earl Adam Wildermuth and Sadye Irene Fleming.

He attended Harmar Elementary School. In June 1942, he graduated from Marietta High School; he attended Marietta College in the premed program; transferred, and in 1948 graduated from Stanford University with a bachelor of arts degree; in 1965, he graduated from Southern Methodist University with a bachelor of science degree in industrial engineering. In 1972, at the age of 48, he entered the University of Central Florida where he received his third degree, a bachelor of science in medical record administration.

On April 20, 1946, he married Dorothy Marie Davis, and they spent 53 years together.

In addition to his wife, he is survived by four children, Terrie Lee Easley of Marietta, Sandra Sue Clement of Atlanta, Debra Jean Massaro of Pembroke, Va., and Robert Earl Wildermuth Jr. of Osprey, Fla.; five grandchildren, Charles Eric Easley, Giancarlo Massaro, Brianna Massaro and Robert Earl Wildermuth III "Trey"; two sisters, Norma Jean Gault of Harbor Hills, Ohio, and Betty Joan Haddox of Newberry, Fla.

He was preceded in death by one brother and one sister, Carl Edward Wildermuth and Ruth Irene Ride-nour.

He entered the service March 24, 1943, and was assigned to the Air Corps of United States Army. After basic training, he graduated from the Air Corps Navigation Training Center on July 4, 1944, later receiving his commission as second lieutenant. His last mission of World War II was to fly an MGM movie camera/newsman over Nagasaki and record the devastation done by the atomic bomb. On Nov. 30, 1945, he was separated from the army as first lieutenant.

After graduation from Stanford University, he worked for Container Corp. of America, Richmond, Calif.; Kaiser Aluminum Co., Newark, Ohio; in 1950, he and his father started a grocery store in Marietta.

He then joined the new Army Air Corps, becoming a bombardier/navigator. He spent a year in Korea and was promoted to captain.

Wildermuth

In 1963 he was awarded the Air Force Commendation Medal. In 1965 he was promoted to major and assigned to the 1955th Communication Squadron at Itazuke Air Base, Fukuoka, Japan. He was eventually promoted to lieutenant colonel.

In 1968, he was transferred to the Pentagon and assigned to Air Force Personnel Directorate as a communication specialist. On May 31, 1970, he retired and was awarded the Meritorious Service Medal.

In the fall of 1970, he taught mathematics at Seabreeze High School in Daytona Beach, Fla., then worked as a salesman, state unemployment agent, golf course supervisor, electronic computer technician and in the insurance business before retiring in 1986.

He worked the balance of his life as the family genealogist for the Wildermuth and Fleming families.

He belonged to the Air Force Academy Athletic Association, charter member; American Air Museum, England, charter member; Marietta College Alumni Association; and Stanford University Alumni Association.

Services were conducted June 29 at Venice Memorial Gardens in Venice, Fla.
